NOAH'S STORY

Noah started at Orangewood Christian School as a 9th grader and has poured his heart into everything he has committed to, both on and off the field. As a student athlete, he participates in football, baseball and weightlifting. In weightlifting, he advanced to regionals during his freshman year.

Noah and his family are active members of Orangewood Presbyterian Church, where he serves as a camp counselor and attends missions trips. Through these experiences, he has been able to witness the Lord use him in the lives of others. When he was at The EDGE camp as a counselor, he specifically recalls helping walk three of his younger friends to Christ.

He loves Orangewood because of its focus on Christian values. He likes that "every teacher is a devout Christian who really tries to make a positive impact on your life."

In the future, Noah aspires to enter either the Air Force Academy or a college ROTC program to pursue his dreams of becoming an Air Force pilot. He shares, "I plan to be in the military as long as I can and make a living by serving my country." We are thankful for Noah's servant heart and the impact he's making for Christ.
